The significance of receiving their tax refunds has proven to be of even greater magnitude in the pandemic climate, where many have struggled to stay employed and thus be able to meet family obligations. Helping to sustain or expand this program to yet unreached neighborhoods is a good use of taxpayer funds because it brings assets in the form of cash back into the hands of those who most desperately need them. I certify that neither I nor my immediate family has any financial interest in this project.

I am requesting $3,000,000 in funding for the transformation of the former Ku Klux Klan Klavern No. 101 Auditorium into The Fred Rouse Center and Museum for the Arts and Community Healing. The entity to receive funding for this project is The Welman Project located at 3950 W Vickery Blvd, Fort Worth, TX 76107. The building will provide arts training and programming for underserved youth and mentorship opportunities for early career performing artists, a museum and exhibit space dedicated to racial, economic, and gender justice and civil rights, and much more. Ultimately the Center will provide a peaceful gathering place for a divided city, transforming a monument to hate and violence into a space for reparative justice.
